Grade 6 EBC Unit (Steve Jobs): STUDENT #1

Steve Jobs gave a speech to the Stanford University graduates about his three life stories, in the year of 2005. The first story is about connecting the dots, the second story is about his love and loss, and the last story is about death.

Steve Jobs never graduated from college. "The minute I dropped out I could stop taking the required classes that didn't interest me, and being dropping in on the ones that looked ones that looked interesting." (Lines 24-25).

Steve Jobs worked hard and in 10 years a company named Apple had grown from a garage to a $2 billion company with over 4000 employees.

He soon had cancer. "About a year ago I was diagnosed with cancer."(Line 105). Jobs had a scan at 7:30 in the morning, and it showed a tumor on his pancreas. (Lines 105-106). Steve Jobs said, "This was the closest I've been to facing death, and I hope it's the closest I get for a few more decades. (Lines 119-120).

Jobs had a big impact on the college graduates. He had lot ups and downs in his life but he still did what he loved and that was to make Apple and not told what to do.
