Grade 6 EBC Unit (Steve Jobs): STUDENT #2

In Steve Jobs speech to the Stanford Graduates in 2005 he talks about living his life by following his heart and thinking positive. Jobs following his heart and thinking positive lead him to many great things.

Jobs lived his life by follow his heart. "And most important have the courage to follow your heart and intuition" (130-131) He says this because in order to achieve things you have to follow your heart in order to have the guts to even try to achieve your goals. Jobs also say's, "Don't let the noise of others' opinions drown your inner voice" (129-130). He tries not to let everyone's opinion effect what he wants to say. "As Apple grew we hired someone who I thought was very talented to run the company with me, and for the first year or so things went well" (58-60). "So at 30 I was out"(62)."But something began to slowly dawn on me, I still loved what I did" (68-69). Jobs hired someone when his company began to grow and their visions began to fade, eventually Jobs had gotten fired, but it slowly began to come back to him, he still loved what he did.

Jobs lived his life by thinking positive. "I didn't see it then, but it turned out that getting fired fro Apple was one of the best things that could have ever happened to me"(71-72)."I'm pretty sure none of this would have happened to me if I was never fired from Apple"(82) because if he was never fired he would have never had felt the "lightness of being a beginner again" (72-73). "I'm convinced that the only thing that kept me going was that I loved what I did" (84-85). If Jobs' didn't love what he did he wouldn't have became a beginner again and became successful again.

Jobs influenced many people in his life. Jobs followed his heart and thought positive, which lead him to many great things
